Hempstead Block-by-Block Photographs, 1957, 1960
0.4 cubic ft.

In 1853, Hempstead became the first incorporated village in what is now Nassau County, New York. At the time of its incorporation, this centrally located area had already become an established mercantile center. It continued expanding over the years, eventually becoming home to hundreds of commercial enterprises as well as to a growing population of residents.

The collection contains one hundred and forty-seven 8" x 10" black and white photographs, all but four of which were taken on June 1, 1960, by Arthur Schwartz. The photographs, taken in a sequential block-by-block fashion, document buildings and businesses on a number of Hempstead Village's commercial streets, including Front, Main, and Franklin Streets, as well as Fulton Avenue.

Notable are images of a number of Hempstead businesses that were established in the 19th century, including A.L. Frank's, Gutowitz Jewelers, and Lush Pharmacy.

This collection was processed with a grant from the Robert D.L. Gardiner Foundation.
